

THIRTY BOSSES THE BASTARDS (MOSTLY) BOOK 1

I worked for over forty years in the USA as a Physicist, Electrical Engineer, Nuclear Power Engineer, Computer Expert, President and General Manager, Independent Management Consultant, College Professor and US Army Rifleman. My work took me all over the US, Canada, Europe and Mexico. I met many wonderful people and had some very nice bosses. But not many nice bosses. My bosses were mostly nasty, scheming, rude, interested only in themselves, not even in their companies. They were mostly Bastards. I wrote this book for you, dear reader. Don't let history repeat itself with you. If you are now working for a living, or are planning to work in the future, I want you to know what you are getting into. I want you to learn from my experience - so that you can recognize a bastard when you see one and to tell him or her to go to Hell. Unfortunately, the bad guys are all over, except where they are supposed to be - in jail or in Hell. The world has not changed much in the last sixty years since I was a young engineer fresh out of the Army and College. What happened to me can still happen to you. You, too, will meet people who are your bosses. They are supposed to lead you, guide you, teach you and motivate you to do well for society, for yourself, your company and your fellow workers. Instead, like I have been, you will be cheated, lied to, misled, taken advantage of, manipulated, unappreciated and underpaid. You will be screwed. Don't worry. You will survive. Remember: you have the right to the Pursuit of Happiness. You have the right to tell your boss to Go to Hell, and to go on to greener pastures. Just learn to recognize the Bastards. Good luck. Jim D.
