

A Celtic Crystal Yearbook

Not a diary of dates as we know it but a Crystal Yearbook, to share in a journey through the cycles of the Celtic year with the crystals to guide you month by month. Crystals have been used for centuries in many countries including Egypt by the high priestesses for many reasons from healing and cosmetics to lining goblets to prevent poisoning. In Siberia and Mexico the shamans worked extensively and still do for healing and extraction work. First nation people worked them into their beaded robes and jackets as well using them as for healing. Wands were made from them in the old English religion and healers, wiccans and druids still use them today in their healing work. Used with their correspondences such as oils herbs and elements we journey together month by month through the year with meditations, healing layouts, grids and much more.
