

Inner Landscapes: A Journey into Awareness by Pathworking

Inner Landscapes outlines a series of guided meditational journeys, each using a Major Arcana Trump card from the beautiful Servants of Light Tarot, and all linked by the central location of a stone circle which is reached by pathworking. After an introduction to the techniques and benefits of pathworking the book guides the reader, chapter by chapter, card by card, into an integrated experience of the whole Major Arcana and a greater understanding of the Tarot. As each journey is completed, a figure from a Trump card takes form, so that by the end all the figures from the cards have materialized and the meaning of the cycle becomes clear. Ultimately, these pathworkings can be adopted as a yearly or two-yearly discipline, bringing deepened insights as each cycle is completed. Through these guided meditational journeys the Tarot reader can: - extend psychic abilities; - create a tranquil, secure retreat from outside stress; - enhance understanding of Tarot symbolism; - integrate new realisations into the whole of esoteric work. Dolores Ashcroft-Nowicki is a third-generation psychic who has worked with magic since childhood. She studied under the late W F. Butler and with him was a founding member of the Servants of Light School of Occult Science, of which she is Director of Studies. She has written a number of successful books and co-designed the Servants of Light Tarot deck.
