

No Phones in Heaven

The veil between the world of the living and the world of the dead is a lot thinner than most people think. There are spirits all around us, and as you will see through the stories in this book, they are very willing and able to communicate with us - We simply need to listen. The stories in this book are just a few of the experiences I have had throughout my many years of communicating with literally thousands of spirits who have passed. The stories are sad, shocking, life altering, but always inspirational.
